First aid is the emergency care or treatment given to an ill or injured person until full medical treatment is available. This course provides community health workers (CHWs) with the process for treating a variety of minor medical situations, including cleaning cuts, treating burns, and applying bandages/dressings.

This training is supported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), together with the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as part of awards totaling $4,339,895 and $3,000,000, respectively, with 0% financed with non-governmental sources.
